Fixed indexed annuities as part of an overall retirement income strategy

Today’s retirees are living longer, more active lives than any generation before them. In fact, Americans on average will spend 20 years in retirement.¹ Making sure you have adequate income for two decades after you stop working can be a challenge, and fixed indexed annuities can help.

As part of an overall retirement income strategy, a fixed indexed annuity can be used to create a guaranteed stream of income to supplement other income sources, such as Social Security, pensions and personal assets. Keep in mind that fixed annuity solutions may not be suitable for everyone. However, they may be ideal if you’re looking to:

- Create a regular stream of retirement income you can’t outlive.
- Provide income for a surviving spouse.
- Cover unforeseen expenses as you get older.
- Create a lasting legacy for your loved ones.

What is a fixed indexed annuity?

A fixed indexed annuity is an insurance product designed for long-term retirement savings and income. Optional income riders, typically available for a charge, allow you to grow your income amount over time. When you’re ready, you can start lifetime withdrawals that can last throughout your retirement.

¹ This material is provided by Athene Annuity and Life Company headquartered in West Des Moines, Iowa, which issues annuities in 49 states and D.C., and Athene Annuity & Life Assurance Company of New York headquartered in Nyack, New York, which issues annuities only in New York. Products not available in all states.
Case study: Jim and Nancy’s story

Learn how Jim and Nancy use a fixed indexed annuity as part of their overall retirement income strategy.

Jim and Nancy are married and are both 50 years old. They are employed full time and contribute regularly to 401(k) plans and Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs).

Both Jim and Nancy hope to retire in 10 years so they can devote time to travel. One of their goals is to visit each one of America’s National Parks.

While they are confident that they are doing all they can to save for retirement, Jim and Nancy are concerned about retirement income. Since neither has an employer-sponsored pension plan they’ll need to rely on their personal savings to help cover essential expenses, especially during their first 10 years of retirement. This is because they want to delay taking Social Security until they reach age 70 so they can maximize their benefits. They’re also worried about potentially hefty medical insurance premiums until Medicare kicks in at age 65.

After talking with their insurance agent, the couple purchases a fixed indexed annuity with an income rider as part of their overall retirement income strategy.
Fixed indexed annuity in action
(Hypothetical example)

Age 50
Roll over $100,000, from a 401(k) that Jim has from a previous employer, to a fixed indexed annuity (10-year withdrawal charge schedule) with an income rider.

What does this do?

- Allows Jim and Nancy to continue to grow those assets on a tax-deferred basis.
- Preserves principal by protecting against loss due to market downturns.
- Provides income growth potential.

Age 60
Turn on income from the rider.

Jim and Nancy receive $6,300 annually, which is their guaranteed lifetime withdrawal amount.2

What does this do?

- Gives Jim and Nancy a steady flow of income they can count on for the rest of their lives.
- Provides an additional income stream to help pay for health insurance and other expenses.

Age 65
Medicare begins.

Age 70
The couple starts taking Social Security benefits.3

Start Planning Your Retirement Income Strategy

By taking the time to plan now, you can help ensure that you have enough income to last through retirement. Consult with your financial professional today to learn more about fixed indexed annuities and retirement income strategies.

---

2 Assumes a hypothetical income rider rollup rate of 8.0% and 10 years of income deferral. Also assumes no withdrawals during the 10-year withdrawal charge period. The hypothetical example is for informational purposes only and is not indicative of past, nor intended to predict future performance of any specific product including an annuity; nor is it intended to represent any particular product or interest crediting method.

3 It’s important to consult with financial, tax, and legal professionals to determine when it’s best to begin taking your Social Security benefits. A number of factors can play into this very important decision, including: taxes, future income, age difference between spouses, potential medical issues, and former earnings history. For more information about Social Security, you can read: “When to Start Your Benefits” available at http://www.ssa.gov/retire2/applying1.htm
Annuities contain features, exclusions and limitations that vary by state. For a full explanation of an annuity, please refer to the Certificate of Disclosure and contact your Financial Professional or the company for costs and complete details.

Fixed indexed annuities are not stock market investments and do not directly participate in any stock or equity investments. Market Indices may not include dividends paid on the underlying stocks, and therefore may not reflect the total return of the underlying stocks; neither an Index nor any market-indexed annuity is comparable to a direct investment in the equity markets. Clients who purchase indexed annuities are not directly investing in a stock market index.

Under current tax law, the Internal Revenue Code already provides tax deferral to qualify money, so there is no additional tax benefit obtained by funding a qualified contract, such as an IRA, with an annuity; consider the other benefits provided by an annuity, such as lifetime income and a Death Benefit. Any information regarding taxation contained herein is based on our understanding of current tax law. The tax and legislative information may be subject to change and different interpretations. We recommend that you seek professional legal advice for applicability to your personal situation.

 Guarantees provided by annuities are subject to the financial strength of the issuing insurance company. Guaranteed lifetime income is available through annuitization or the purchase of an optional income rider for a charge.

This material is a general description intended for general public use. Athene Annuity and Life Company, headquartered in West Des Moines, Iowa, and issuing annuities in 49 states and D.C., and Athene Annuity & Life Assurance Company of New York, headquartered in Nyack, NY, and issuing annuities in New York, are not undertaking to provide investment advice for any individual or in any individual situation, and therefore nothing in this should be read as investment advice. Please reach out to your financial professional if you have any questions about Athene products or their features.

The term “financial professional” is not intended to imply engagement in an advisory business with compensation unrelated to sales. Financial professionals will be paid a commission on the sale of an Athene annuity.

ATHENE ANNUITIES ARE PRODUCTS OF THE INSURANCE INDUSTRY AND NOT GUARANTEED BY ANY BANK NOR INSURED BY FDIC OR NCUA/NCUSIF. MAY LOSE VALUE. NO BANK/CREDIT UNION GUARANTEE. NOT A DEPOSIT. NOT INSURED BY ANY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT AGENCY. MAY ONLY BE OFFERED BY A LICENSED INSURANCE AGENT.

Not for use in OR.